

Religious freedom in Australia

INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

Challenges to religious freedom in Australia

Religious freedom and Australian schools

Religious freedom in a post-secular society

Religious freedom in Australia: legal perspectives

Editor Dr Michael Gladwin
Reviews editor Dr Bernard Doherty
Editorial committee Chair: Revd Dr Andrew Cameron
Typeset by Graham Lindsay
Artwork by Chevelle Hibberd
Printed by KainosPrint.com.au
PO Box 311, Calwell ACT 2905
Published by St Mark's National Theological Centre
15 Blackall St, Barton ACT 2600

ISSN: 0036-3103

Please address all correspondence to:

The Editor, St Mark's Review
15 Blackall Street
BARTON, ACT 2600 Australia
admin@stmarks.edu.au

Subscriptions

For subscriptions and subscription rates, please see back page.

Material published in St Mark's Review is copyright and may not be reproduced without permission of the Editor. The Review is indexed by the Australian Public Affairs Information Service, Religion Index One (USA) and Australasian Religion Index.

St Mark's Review is published quarterly by St Mark's NTC Publishing (an imprint of St Mark's National Theological Centre, Canberra. St Mark's is a partner in the School of Theology of Charles Sturt University. St Mark's incorporates the St Mark's Memorial Library. It shares its site with the Australian Centre for Christianity & Culture.

St Mark's Review

No. 247, March/April 2019 (1)

Religious freedom in Australia

Freedoms religious and social: an Australian stock-take	1
Andrew Cameron
Is religious freedom under threat in Australia?	18
Patrick Parkinson
Contemporary challenges to religious freedom in Australia	32
Frank Brennan
Maintaining religious freedom for religious schools: options for legal protection after the Ruddock Review	40
Alex Deagon
Litigation, liberty, and legitimation: the experience of the Church of Scientology in Australian law	61
Bernard Doherty and James T. Richardson
Religious freedom in a post-secular society	82
Stephen Pickard
Book reviews	93
Commonwealth and covenant	93
The crimes of 'The Family'	95
Lutherans and the law	99
Weak messianic power: political theology in exilic mode	105

Dig deep.

Ask difficult questions.
Find some answers.

DOCTORATE IN THEOLOGY

- 3 years full-time, 6 years part-time
- Online or on campus
- Available on campus in Canberra

The School of Theology, of which St Mark's is a founding partner, participates in CSU's Faculty of Arts and Education's doctoral program. We have an excellent record in bringing doctoral candidates to completion, and offer a supportive environment to explore as your "faith seeks understanding." We emphasise intellectual honesty and academic rigour, and our lecturers are all passionate, practising Christians. We also offer theology awards at Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma, and Masters levels.

St Mark's
NATIONAL THEOLOGICAL CENTRE

stmarks.edu.au | 02 6272 6252